

What do people in the Czech republic eat? Tell me about the Czech CUISINE [KUZÍN] - kuchyně - Czech people have breakfast, snack, dinner at lunchtime and supper or second diner.

What do people in England eat? Tell me about the English cuisine- People in England have breakfast, snack, lunch, snack and diner.

In the morning Czech people usually have müsli, cornflakes, bread with butter and salami, marmelade or cheese, or anything quick.

English people eat müsli, cornflakes, biscuits or anything quick.

At about 1a.m. Czech people have dinner, they have meat (pork, beef, chicken or fish), sauce and side dishes (such as potatoes, rice, pasta, dumplings) for dinner.

English people eat sandwiches for lunch, or baguettes.

In the evening Czech people have supper, they eat bread or rolls with butter and cheese, salami or ham.

People in England eat diner in the evening. During the week they are busy and they only have something fast – pizza, spaghetti, meal from the microwave. During the weekend they have dinner, meat and sidedishes. They like lamb meat and potatoes, rice or pasta. They do not eat dumplings.

What meals do you like?/ What's your favourite meal? -I like My favourite is..... I prefer.....

What meals do you dislike? - I don't like

What did you eat yesterday? I had yesterday.

Have you ever tried sea food? - .. Yes I have/ No I haven't but I d like to taste it.

Do you know any traditional English meals? Traditional English meal is fish and chips, English breakfast – the English eat it it when they have visitors or at special occasions (it is beans in tomato sauce, fried eggs, bacon, tomatoes, sausages), Xmas pudding (it is made of dried fruits, rasins, nuts – the English cook it for 3 or 4 hours and fire brandy on it).

Do you know any traditional Czech meals? Traditional Czech meal is for example svíčková (sirloin [srloin]- meat with cream sauce and dumplings), řízek (pork or chicken dipped in roll crumbs, fried) and potato salad, knedlo vepřo zelo (pork meat, sauer kraut – cabbage and dumplings), fruit dumplings etc.

What do people in the Czech republic eat? Tell me about the Czech CUISINE [KUZÍN] - kuchyně - Czech people have breakfast, snack, dinner at lunchtime and supper or second diner.

What do people in England eat? Tell me about the English cuisine- People in England have breakfast, snack, lunch, snack and diner.

In the morning Czech people usually have müsli, cornflakes, bread with butter and salami, marmelade or cheese, or anything quick.

English people eat müsli, cornflakes, biscuits or anything quick.

At about 1a.m. Czech people have dinner, they have meat (pork, beef, chicken or fish), sauce and side dishes (such as potatoes, rice, pasta, dumplings) for dinner.

English people eat sandwiches for lunch, or baguettes.

In the evening Czech people have supper, they eat bread or rolls with butter and cheese, salami or ham.

People in England eat diner in the evening. During the week they are busy and they only have something fast – pizza, spaghetti, meal from the microwave. During the weekend they have dinner, meat and sidedishes. They like lamb meat and potatoes, rice or pasta. They do not eat dumplings.

What meals do you like?/ What's your favourite meal? -I like My favourite is..... I prefer.....

What meals do you dislike? - I don't like

What did you eat yesterday? I had yesterday.

Have you ever tried sea food? - .. Yes I have/ No I haven't but I d like to taste it.

Do you know any traditional English meals? Traditional English meal is fish and chips, English breakfast – the English eat it it when they have visitors or at special occasions (it is beans in tomato sauce, fried eggs, bacon, tomatoes, sausages), Xmas pudding (it is made of dried fruits, rasins, nuts – the English cook it for 3 or 4 hours and fire brandy on it).

Do you know any traditional Czech meals? Traditional Czech meal is for example svíčková (sirloin [srloin]- meat with cream sauce and dumplings), řízek (pork or chicken dipped in roll crumbs, fried) and potato salad, knedlo vepřo zelo (pork meat, sauer kraut – cabbage and dumplings), fruit dumplings etc.