

TASK Choose a book you like and write about your favourite part in the book/ situation you like. Do not forget about Present simple tense -s

OR

you have created your own fairytale character (astronaut Harry, Donut, Crazy Grandma, Kitten Will Jr or Flying Dog, you can write your own story!!!!)

(if you do not read AT ALL or you have absolutely no ideas what you would write about to create your story, you can describe your favourite scene from a film. But try!, if you can :D)

My favourite book is Winnie-the-Pooh

Winnie-The-Pooh is a book written by A. A. Milne.

It is about a little silly bear and his adventures with his friends, a little boy Christopher Robin, Tigger, Piglet and donkey Eyerore. The stories and the situations they get into are really silly, but the book is full of true sayings and mottos about life, friendship and love.

My favourite part is when Pooh meets Piglet in the wood. Piglet walks around and sees his own footprints in the snow. It thinks someone is chasing him. Pooh joins him, and they walk together. The more they walk, the more footprints they see. They think there are more and more animals chasing, hunting or tracking them.

I think the book should become a part of literature lessons at primary schools, as the children can learn nice English from the stories, it's full of useful phrases and words, they would learn about friendship and useful for life. They would also have rules

walking round and round in a circle, thinking of something else, and when Piglet called to him, he just went on walking.

"Hallo!" said Piglet, "what are you doing?"

"Hunting," said Pooh.

"Hunting what?"

"Tracking something,"
said Winnie-the-Pooh very mysteriously.

"Tracking what?" said Piglet, coming closer.

"That's just what I ask myself. I ask myself, What?"

"What do you think you'll answer?"

"I shall have to wait until I catch up with it," said Winnie-the-Pooh. "Now, look there." He pointed to the ground in front of him. "What do you see there?"

"Tracks," said Piglet, "Paw-marks." He gave a little squeak of excitement. "Oh, Pooh! Do you think it's a - a - a Woozle?"

"It may be," said Pooh. "Sometimes it is, and sometimes it isn't. You never can tell with paw-marks."

With these few words he went on tracking, and Piglet, after watching him for a minute or two, ran after him. Winnie-the-Pooh had come to a sudden stop, and was bending over the tracks in a puzzled sort of way.

"What's the matter?" asked Piglet.

"It's a very funny thing," said Bear, "but there seem to be two animals now. This – whatever-it-was – has been joined by another – whatever-it-is – and the two of them are now proceeding in company. Would you

If ever there is tomorrow
when we're not together...
there is something you must always remember.

You are braver than you believe,
Stronger than you seem,
And smarter than you think.

But the most important thing is,
even if we're apart...
I'll always be with you.
