

Bridges

1. What are bridges?
2. Why is it called bridges?
3. Why are they necessary? What is their function?
4. Why is it important for patients who need a bridge to see a dentist several times?
What is done first and what is done at the second visit?
5. Describe dental care for patients with bridges
6. What are the patients recommended to eat/ not to eat?
7. Describe the three types of bridges
 - Traditional bridge (talk about the components, materials, other aspects that are discussed)
 - Adhesive bridge (structure, material, advantages, limitations, uses)
 - Implant-supported dental bridge
8. Name the steps of metal ceramic framework design/ fabrication

Bridges

1. What are bridges?
2. Why is it called bridges?
3. Why are they necessary? What is their function?
4. Why is it important for patients who need a bridge to see a dentist several times?
What is done first and what is done at the second visit?
5. Describe dental care for patients with bridges
6. What are the patients recommended to eat/ not to eat?
7. Describe the three types of bridges
 - Traditional bridge (talk about the components, materials, other aspects that are discussed)
 - Adhesive bridge (structure, material, advantages, limitations, uses)
 - Implant-supported dental bridge
8. Name the steps of metal ceramic framework design/ fabrication

Bridges

1. What are bridges?
2. Why is it called bridges?
3. Why are they necessary? What is their function?
4. Why is it important for patients who need a bridge to see a dentist several times?
What is done first and what is done at the second visit?
5. Describe dental care for patients with bridges
6. What are the patients recommended to eat/ not to eat?
7. Describe the three types of bridges
 - Traditional bridge (talk about the components, materials, other aspects that are discussed)
 - Adhesive bridge (structure, material, advantages, limitations, uses)
 - Implant-supported dental bridge
8. Name the steps of metal ceramic framework design/ fabrication

Bridges

1. What are bridges?
2. Why is it called bridges?
3. Why are they necessary? What is their function?
4. Why is it important for patients who need a bridge to see a dentist several times?
What is done first and what is done at the second visit?
5. Describe dental care for patients with bridges
6. What are the patients recommended to eat/ not to eat?
7. Describe the three types of bridges
 - Traditional bridge (talk about the components, materials, other aspects that are discussed)
 - Adhesive bridge (structure, material, advantages, limitations, uses)
 - Implant-supported dental bridge
8. Name the steps of metal ceramic framework design/ fabrication