

King Charles IV founded the New Town and promoted construction of Charles Bridge and St. Vitus Cathedral, which was completed in 1929, nearly six hundred years after its founding by Charles IV. King Charles IV also established Charles University in the 14th century.

The Lesser town/ Malá strana is one of the most beautiful parts of Prague. It is the oldest part of the town. When you walk downhill from Prague Castle to Charles Bridge, you can go through Neruda street, where one of the biggest Czech writers – Jan Neruda – was born. Near this street there's St. Nicholas Church, built in baroque style.

Vyšehrad is the oldest castle in Prague. It was also the seat of the kings in the past.

Jewish town is a part of historical Prague. On the walls of Pinkas Synagogue there are names of victims from the Nazi terror written. There's also an old Jewish cemetery and a Jewish museum.

King Charles IV founded the New Town and promoted construction of Charles Bridge and St. Vitus Cathedral, which was completed in 1929, nearly six hundred years after its founding by Charles IV. King Charles IV also established Charles University in the 14th century.

The Lesser town/ Malá strana is one of the most beautiful parts of Prague. It is the oldest part of the town. When you walk downhill from Prague Castle to Charles Bridge, you can go through Neruda street, where one of the biggest Czech writers – Jan Neruda – was born. Near this street there's St. Nicholas Church, built in baroque style.

Vyšehrad is the oldest castle in Prague. It was also the seat of the kings in the past.

Jewish town is a part of historical Prague. On the walls of Pinkas Synagogue there are names of victims from the Nazi terror written. There's also an old Jewish cemetery and a Jewish museum.

King Charles IV founded the New Town and promoted construction of Charles Bridge and St. Vitus Cathedral, which was completed in 1929, nearly six hundred years after its founding by Charles IV. King Charles IV also established Charles University in the 14th century.

The Lesser town/ Malá strana is one of the most beautiful parts of Prague. It is the oldest part of the town. When you walk downhill from Prague Castle to Charles Bridge, you can go through Neruda street, where one of the biggest Czech writers – Jan Neruda – was born. Near this street there's St. Nicholas Church, built in baroque style.

Vyšehrad is the oldest castle in Prague. It was also the seat of the kings in the past.

Jewish town is a part of historical Prague. On the walls of Pinkas Synagogue there are names of victims from the Nazi terror written. There's also an old Jewish cemetery and a Jewish museum.

King Charles IV founded the New Town and promoted construction of Charles Bridge and St. Vitus Cathedral, which was completed in 1929, nearly six hundred years after its founding by Charles IV. King Charles IV also established Charles University in the 14th century.

The Lesser town/ Malá strana is one of the most beautiful parts of Prague. It is the oldest part of the town. When you walk downhill from Prague Castle to Charles Bridge, you can go through Neruda street, where one of the biggest Czech writers – Jan Neruda – was born. Near this street there's St. Nicholas Church, built in baroque style.

Vyšehrad is the oldest castle in Prague. It was also the seat of the kings in the past.

Jewish town is a part of historical Prague. On the walls of Pinkas Synagogue there are names of victims from the Nazi terror written. There's also an old Jewish cemetery and a Jewish museum.